FROM A MEMBER IN ATLANTA

In Sweden, my home country, my grandmother has a huge hibiscus that is now about 15 or 20 years old. It is pink and blooms profusely (although the blooms are not as large as on the ones I have) in a sunny library. As far as I know they never take it outdoors, and I don't think they repot it very often either. This particular one seems to thrive on neglect more than anything else.

They're picking up the pieces
With a dustpan and a rake,
Because he grabbed a silken knee
When he should have grabbed the brake.

NEW HIBISCUS

Mrs. Owen Craig has a new seedling called "Bright Future" which sounds good. We do not have a complete description but it is a single six to seven inch iridescent red with a suggestion of yellow edge. It is a good grower. When we get a complete description it will be given here. Rumor has it that she she will have another later called "Vivid Past".

THE FROG

What a wonderful boid the frog are,
Him ain't got no tail, almost hardly;
When him walk, him hop.
When him don't hop, him set on him little tail
What him ain't got,
Almost hardly.
